

Roundtable: “Long-term Impact of Crisis time decisions”

Time: October 15 2009

Venue: Tallinn Botanic Garden, Palm House (Kloostrimetsa tee 52).

Programme

- 09.30-10.00 Registration, tea/coffee
- 10.00-10.10 Opening remarks
Peep Mühls, Chairman of the Executive Board of Board of Estonian Cooperation Assembly
- 10.10-10.40 “The Impact of Economic Crisis on Potential Growth”
Natalie Lubenets, economic analyst, EC Directorate-General for Economic and Financial Affairs
- 10.40-11.10 “The Arrow Effect – Focusing on the most Important”
Bo Henriksson, Chairman of the Board of ABB Ltd
- 11.10-11.40 “Do the changes in values of Estonian residents support overcoming economic crisis?”
Andrus Saar, social and market research company Saar Poll
- 11.40-12.00 Tea/Coffee
- 12.00-14.00 Panel discussion “Long-term impact of Crisis time decision: dangers and opportunities“
Moderator: Andres Trink
- Jaan Männik, Chairman of the Supervisory Board of Bank of Estonia
Sulev Vedler, Eesti Ekspress
Jekaterina Pervušina, Narva Youth Centre
Vladimir Poležajev, Knowledge Transfer Centre, Tallinn University
Marti Taru, Institute of International and Social Studies, Tallinn University
- 14.00-15.00 Lunch

The working language of the roundtable is Estonian with translation into Russian.

Natalie Lubenets is Economic analyst at EC Directorate-General for Economic and Financial Affairs where her main responsibility is to analyse the EU Strategy for Growth and Employment and to propose necessary measures for enhancing the and reforming the strategy. She has also published several articles on economic geography, economic policy analysis and formation of wages.

Bo Henriksson is Chairman of the Board of ABB Ltd in the Baltic region. In the last three years ABB has been crowned as the best Estonian enterprise by the Entrepreneurship Awards and also the Foreign Investor 2008.

Andrus Saar is the manager of social and market research Company Saar Poll and one of the most renowned sociologist in Estonia, who has among other topics studied the changes in the values of Estonian people over time.

Andres Trink has served as the risk-manager at Swedbank Baltic, and is the former head of Financial Supervision Authority.

Jaan Männik is a long-time manager, who has worked in different countries and has served as the Chair man of the Board of Eesti Telefon and then Eesti Telekom. Since 2008 Chairman of the Supervisory Board of Bank of Estonia

Sulev Vedler is the deputy editor of Eesti Ekspress and one of the best investigating journalists in Estonian, whose writing has been awarded with several journalism awards.

Jekaterina Pervušina works at Narva Youth Centre and is the contact point for Nordic Council of Ministers.

Vladimir Poležajev works as a services sales specialist at Tallinn University Knowledge Transfer Centre. The aim of the Knowledge Transfer Centre is to encourage the social and commercial application of research outcomes.

Marti Taru, is a researcher at Institute of International and Social Studies, Tallinn University and is the coordinator of youth studies research at the Estonian Youth Studies Institute.